Summary

I'm a curious Data Scientist currently working with machine learning and recommender systems at FINN.no. I'm working on finding ways to leverage NLP in our job matching engine on our job market place. Previously I have worked as a software developer and have a MSc from NTNU. Computers and Technology has always been an interest of mine and I love learning new things.

Software Engineer

June 2017 - August 2017 (3 months)

Oslo Area, Norway

During the summer I worked in a team on two different projects:

1. We redesigned and rewrote the admin page for an ad on Finn using NodeJS and React.
2. Implemented a new feature on the ad-page for customers to give feedback directly to the seller. Here we used Spring Boot. For more information please read the attached blogpost.
